

BELARUS STAYS STRONG AGAINST EU AGGRESSION

What a world we live in! The leaders of countries lie right in the face of their own people, accuse other nations of doing what themselves doing to this same "own people" and expect any sane person to take these farces of human beings seriously? In the world we live in, we have someone who claims to represent a nation that did not know of her existence two months ago, who claims that is working for the good of her people while at the same time salutes sanctions which will only cripple this same people, and you have nations that were a mere 30 years ago holders of the banner of progress for humanity and now hold one of the most reactionary banners imaginable.

What a world!

Now, a lot of things happened in Belarus these days. Lukashenko had a meeting with the jailed oppositionists, of which we dont know the result or what was discussed, and he had many countries withdrawing their ambassadors from the country. Among them are Latvia, Estonia, Slovakia, Czech Republic, Bulgaria, and Romania, countries that were socialist no more than a generation ago. The forefathers of these people who build socialism after a lot of toil are hurling in their graves in the sights of what their labour became after they died. The council of europe also made a declaration against the "authoritarian nature" of the Belarusian government. The declaration reads

Freedom of assembly and freedom of expression are fundamental European values which must be respected. Violence against peaceful protestors is intolerable. We condemn in the strongest possible terms any further use of violence in Belarus, including the disproportionate use of force by the authorities against protestors, as reported recently.^[1]

And thus spoke the European Union! What about the yellow vests or the anti austerity protests in the whole continent? It seems EU wants to abolish their own police, since they do the actions they condemn every single day. But no, as we discussed on our previous article^[2] the cosmopolitan bourgeoisie of EU don't see their own protestors as humans, but some kind of hominidae who happens to speak. Subhumans who deserve the beatings! For these "humans" who made this declaration, human right means right to exploit the proletariat, right to private property, and since their protesters are protesting against the furthering of that right, and the protesters in Belarus are protesting in favor of furthering this right, it can only be that violence against peaceful protestors -as Hominidae can't protest, only humans can- applies only to the Belarusian protesters.

Such is the nature of this declaration, and makes clear many things that were clear already, but re-enforces the rule: EU is one of the biggest dangers the humanity is facing right now.

Now let's go to our favorite woman liberation fighter, Ms. Svetlana Tikhanovskaya, the mistress of Mr. Macron, who was seating one nice morning in his villa earned by his hard work at practicing being a mosquito, sucking the blood of the Hominidae which he rules: "my wife has become a hag, she is like the grandmas in the street. How can the Emmanuel the great that I am not go seek company with another woman? I rule the great French 5th republic god damn it! But just anyone won't do." As he was thinking, the image of the french petite bourgeoisie who enjoy the sexual slavery-oh sorry, lets stay correct to liberal terminology Sex Work of the eastern european girls which his country helped to destroy their countries so now they can be imported-oh, sorry, work as sex workers we mean- he thought "Really, a great leader like me should enjoy some eastern european meat too. But the Hominidae they have in the brothels wont suit, i need something good. A human being bearing the banner of humanity!"

Vuala, god presented the bearer of humanity in the eastern european nation, and thus the merging between these two beautiful, humanitarian souls was forged!

From this union an ultimatum^[3] was birthed, which was presented to the Humanitarian world. This ultimatum gave two weeks to the semi-hominidae who is ruling the currently Hominidae nation of Belarus, Lukashenko to resign or else the country will "as one fist" rise against him!

Truly marvelous child this ultimatum, lets see if it will manage to walk in two weeks since its birth.....
