

THE CORSICAN QUESTION: A GREAT CASE OF EUROPEAN FEDERALISM

For those who aren't aware of the situation, following the savage aggression by a co-detained in jail of Yvan Colonna, a Corsican Nationalist and Terrorist convicted for his involvement in the assassination of the prefect Erignac in February 1998, the Corsican people multiplied riots and protests for more than 10 days against the French State itself. The Minister of the Interior Darmanin (known for his strong policy towards Muslim People) was actually really sympathetic with the Corsican Nationalist Cause and said that he was ready to discuss an Autonomy for Corsica.

Corsica is largely known for its rampant corruption, its poverty, its organized crime and the harassing of the Corsican People by the European Union, we can understand the general problem that can provoke such indignation for the Corsican People.

But these protests hide something more deep : the tentative of the EU to destroy the European Nations as a whole to create a New Inter-Imperialist Alliance.

This is basically the same situation with Catalonia : a way for the European Union to destroy the European Nations and dissolve them in a Federal European Imperialist Union.

Like the President of the Regional Council of Brittany, Loïc Chesnais-Girard said, for an interview for Le Telegramme :

The combination of a Federal Europe and of a Regionalized Republic : a project that makes our differences an asset. There is the project that we can defend and that I can propose to the Bretonnes and to the Bretons.

So like the Breton, or the Catalonian question, the goal is basically to destroy the Nations that were created after centuries of edifications of historically stable communities of people united by common language who were entirely assimilated by bourgeois nationalism (and, specifically in France, a powerful jacobinism that was basically the Left-Wing of bourgeois federalism, promoted the unity of the Republic, guaranteeing the equality of all citizens before the law, but also the full self-determination of the municipalities was put in place, against the girondism, the Right-Wing of bourgeois feudalism, tended to dislocate the nation and break the strength of the people by replacing the feudal lords with a new bourgeois feudalism rooted in municipalities) to create a Feral Union constituted of Ethno-States based only on pseudo-racial or pseudo-creative foundations based on feudalism.

The Corsican, Savoyards Occitan and Bretons most important Nationalists parties are also into a coalition names « Régions et Peuples Solidaires » where in their chart, they state their goals :

10 / Promote regional or community-based federalism in France and Europe according to the principles of autonomy, cooperation and solidarity.

11 / Allow peoples divided by inter-State borders, legacies of wars, to come together thanks to the process of unification of Europe.

They recognize that their goal is the destruction of the France and of Inter-State borders to create a Federal Imperialist Europe.

So, when some people protest for the Independence of their region and for the European Union, never forget what Lenin said :

A United States of Europe, under capitalism, is either impossible or reactionary.
